The Food and Non-Alcoholic Drinks' Index increased by 1.46 per cent from November 2019 to December 2019. As shown in Table 3, the increase was mainly due to rise in prices of some foodstuffs outweighing decrease recorded in others. High increases of vegetables was recorded despite the ongoing heavy rains. For instance, prices of Kales (sukuma wiki), tomatoes, spinach and onions increased by 5.6, 7.8, 9.1 and 5.1 per cent, respectively, compared with the prices for the previous month. However, during the same period, prices of unpacketed fresh milk and mangoes dropped.

The Housing, Water, Electricity, Gas and Other Fuels' Index, increased marginally mainly attributed to higher prices of charcoal. However, the cost of electricity dropped slightly compared to the previous month.

Despite decrease in the pump prices of diesel and petrol during the month, the Transport Index increased by 2.1 per cent mainly as a result of increase in public transport fares.
